Drilling for oil?

That buzzing in my head lately has been the dentist drill. For the past several weeks I've been getting the mercury removed from eleven teeth due to some recurring health problems. It's an expensive move, but I am feeling better. I still have several more sessions till it's all done. I'm still hoping that the dentist will hit an oil well while drilling and maybe it will help pay the bill.

I can tell it's finally spring, because that seems to be the time when everything breaks down. I need to repair the furnace in my trailer, and I just replaced the muffler on my car which has close to 300 thousand miles. I was able to pay my taxes, which was a blessing, but now am facing some major repair bills.

I'm telling you these things so you can pray with me. I am so thankful for your help and support. I am truly blessed to have you partner with me .

2 Corinthians 4:1 says, "Therefore, since through God's mercy we have this ministry, we do not lose heart." Would you pray for me that God will help lift this financial burden? Would you consider partnering with me in meeting these needs?

Thank you for your prayers and support.
